How to clean drain on lg washer

"I love love love this app. It's so nice to have useful information (receipts, manuals, parts lists, warranty info, pictures, etc.) on all of my household appliances and devices in one place." Troubleshooting Laundry Accessories, Washer Dryer Combos, Washers 02/25/2021 Print Email Copy Link LG TUB CLEAN is a maintenance routine that is recommended to keep your washing machine in optimal performance. This help library content will show you how to clean your tub, dispenser, water inlet filters and the exterior part of your machine. Select your type of washer: Before running the Tub Clean cycle, perform the following maintenance steps: Remove the dispenser and thoroughly clean the tray and all attachments. Using a solution of bleach and water (3/4 cup bleach to 1 gallon of water), clean the gasket around the opening to the drum and the inside of the door glass. (Front Load only) Manually drain the unit and clean the drain pump filter. (Front Load only) Once the initial maintenance steps have been performed, start the Tub Clean cycle. Perform each of the following maintenance steps below: Tub Clean Drain Pump Dispenser Inlet Filters Exterior Gasket Tub cleaning keeps your washing machine in optimal performance by removing detergent buildup and other residue, and keep your wash drum nice and clean. We recommend running the Tub Clean cycle every 30 cycle, or once per month. Remove any clothing from the wash drum. For most effective results, LG recommends using a washing machine tub cleaner according to the package instructions: Tablet: Directly in the drum Powder: Remove liquid cup insert (if applicable) and pour into Main Wash Compartment in Dispenser Liquid: Pour in liquid cup insert in Main Wash Compartment NOTE: *Liquid Chlorine Bleach or White Distilled Vinegar may be used for monthly maintenance, however, they are not as effective as washing machine tub cleaners at removing buildup associated with detergents and hard water. Close the drawer and the lid, select TUB CLEAN and press START/PAUSE. When cycle is done, wait for washer to cool down and then open the lid. Use a towel or soft cloth to wipe around the washer lid opening, lid, and door glass. It's always a good idea to remove items from the washer as soon as the wash cycle is completed. Leaving damp clothing in the washer can cause wrinkling, color transfer and odor. After using TUB CLEAN, leave the washer lid open for ventilation and drying inside the washer. If a musty smell already exists, run TUB CLEAN once a week, for 3 consecutive weeks. FRONT LOAD WASHERS ONLY - Cleaning the drain pump filter is very important to keep your unit from leaking and performing in optimal performance. You need to clean the detergent dispenser properly, this simple step is mostly underestimated. Tiny debris, which are not easily visible do not take much effort to prevent proper dispensing, and cause the compartment to overflow and leak. Pull out the dispenser towards you until it stops. Locate the depressed tab between the bleach and softener compartment. While pushing down on the tab, pull the detergent tray out from the washer. After removing the dispenser tray, look inside the compartment to see if anything is obstructing the flow of water into the drum. Once the detergent dispenser is removed, disassemble the attachments from the tray and clean each of the attachments with warm water and a soft bristle brush. Clean the tray itself, including the underside of the tray. With the tray removed, thoroughly clean the inside of the dispenser housing. After the detergent dispenser is cleaned and rinsed, re-assemble the inserts and replace the detergent dispenser into the washer. Over time, you water's inlet filters can get clogged—especially if you live in an area with hard water. If your washer detects that water is not entering the dispenser properly, an error message will be displayed. Cleaning the water inlet filters is simple and will help your washer run smoothly for longer. Press the POWER button to turn off your washer, and unplug it before cleaning. Turn off both water taps completely. Unscrew the hot and cold water lines from the back of the washer. After the water supply is turned, there will be some water remaining in the hoses. Place a bucket beneath hoses so you can empty that water. Use needle-nose pliers, or some other grabbing tool with small tips, and pull the filters out of the inlet valves. Soak them in white vinegar or a lime scale remover. Be careful not to damage the water inlets. Wash thoroughly in warm water until all signs of build-up are gone. Rinse thoroughly before reinstalling. Press the filters back into place and reattach the water lines. Some simple cleaning to the exterior can keep your front load washer looking as good as new. It can be cleaned with warm water and a mild, nonabrasive common detergent. Wipe off any spills with a soft, damp cloth. Do not use methylated spirits, solvents, or similar products, steel wool or abrasive cleaners. They could damage the surface of your machine. The door and gasket should be wiped dry at the end of each wash day. This will help to keep them both free of hair and lint that can prevent a proper seal. In addition, both should be cleaned at least once a month. Failure to do so will result in leaking from the door. To clean the door and gasket: Dilute ¼ cup (177 ml) liquid chlorine bleach with 1 gallon (3.8 L) of warm/hot water. Use vinegar IN PLACE OF bleach, if desired. Never use the two together at the same time. Using a cloth and the cleaning solution, clean the surface of the gasket. Pull the lip of the gasket back and clean under it as well. Clean around the inside of the door, paying extra attention to the bottom of the door where hair, lint and residue can accumulate. Do not use straight bleach (undiluted) to clean the gasket as this can cause the gasket to deteriorate over time.
